Obituary

Michael James Wray, the oldest son born to the late Roger Wray and Dearma Wray, Walker (nee: Thurman) on July 16, 1954 in Racine Wisconsin, passed away unexpectedly on Sunday, October 30, 2022, at the age of 68 years old. He was a loving and dedicated husband, father, grandfather, and great-grandfather, brother, and uncle. Michael was united in marriage to the love of his life, Alma L. (nee: Mundy) Wray, on August 5, 1986, and shared 36 anniversaries together.

Michael was a lifelong resident of Racine, Wisconsin, and graduated from Washington Park High School, class of 1973. He faithfully served our country with the United States Army from 1975 through 1977. He was a member and supporter of the Wounded Warriors Project for several years. He worked at various places, and later retired from the Kenosha County Brookside Healthcare Center after 16 years.

Later in life, Michael developed a walk with Christ, spending moments daily in prayer, often recording his Christian walk in a journal. He was passionate about passing on wisdom to the young men in the family. At any given moment, you'd catch him listening to jazz, completing a word search or sudoku puzzle, or playing with his precious dog Willie. Michael had a big heart and was quick to respond to anyone in need. He was the kind of man who would overhear something to be done and handle it, without even being asked. He was a man of his word, yet did not tolerate any BS.

He was an avid sports fan, especially of football and basketball, often talking shop with family and friends. He was an expert on all things Marvel, and collected comics and action figures. Michael had an amazing voice, loved to sing (but never on camera). His mother-in-law would always say he belonged singing in a church choir. He was also an expert on cars, often making repairs for family and friends whenever asked. In fact, replacing windshield wipers on Alma's car was what sparked their friendship!

Ecclesiastes 3:1-7

For everything there is a season, a time for every activity under heaven. A time to be born and a time to die; A time to plant and a time to harvest; A time to kill and a time to heal; A time to tear down and a time to build up; A time to cry and a time to laugh. A time to grieve and a time to dance; A time to scatter stones and a time to gather stones; A time to embrace and a time to turn away; A time to search and a time to quit searching; A time to keep and a time to throw away; A time to tear and a time to mend; A time to be quiet and a time to speak.

Poem

Dear Grandpa

From the day I opened my eyes

Your smile engraved a memory into my heart

A love so great and undeniable, A love so patient and kind

Unbearably intentional and gentle
With the utmost exuberance of cascading
Wisdom and intellect beyond my years

Your laughter rings an echo in my mind Your eyes twinkle as you light up the sky

My heart yearns for an explanation For more time -

For a chance to remind you of the love I have To be reminded of the love that you gave For a chance to hold your hand one more time To look into your beautiful brown eyes again

When you enter my mind all I can do is smile My heart warms by the thought of you; And breaks to know that you're gone

Yet you are loved by those on earth
And protected by the One above.
He heals the brokenhearted And takes care of the weary.

So I can sit in peace and comfort
Knowing that you are with Him
Who loves you
Who loves me.

Grandpa, you will be missed. I'm so thankful for the time I was able to have with you and for the memories created. I know you are smiling down on me from Heaven and peacefully holding God's hand.

I love you. - AJ
